

Annex B. Country pages

Throughout this report, the GSoD Indices category, factor and subfactor scores have been used to describe global and regional trends in democratic performance. The tables and figures on the following pages provide consolidated data on each of the 173 countries for which we have data covering 2024.

The table consolidates the category-level rankings and scores (also presented in rank-ordered lists in Annex A).

The bar graph illustrates each country's performance in the second-level factors in 2024, organized according to the top-level categories of democratic performance. Each bar also has a point that marks the average score for that factor for the region in which the country is found. Where the factor score has been aggregated with a measure of uncertainty, there is also an error bar that illustrates the range of possible values (one standard deviation above and below the score).

The lines in the second figure illustrate trends in the country's performance in the four top-level categories during the entire period for which we have data.
