Appendix 1: Additional Terms for Commissioning Contract

1. Introduction

1.1 These Additional Terms apply to and form part of the Contract between International IDEA and Provider.

2. Definitions

2.1 In addition to the definitions included in the Special Terms and the General Terms, the following terms have the meanings given them below (unless it is apparent from the context in which they are used, that they should not):

Additional Material	the material identified as such in the Special Terms, that Provider has to provide to International IDEA in addition to the Deliverable.
Author	the creator of the Deliverable.
Co-Author	one of a number of individuals who collectively create the Deliverable.
Institutional Provider	an institution that employs or otherwise engages the Author(s).
Lead Author	a Co-author that takes sole responsibility for the production and delivery of the Deliverable.
Lead Provider	Provider that has been allocated additional duties in relation to the Work as specified in clause 8 of these Additional Terms to the Commissioning Contract.

3. Role of Provider

3.1 Provider's role is indicated in the Special Terms.

4. Commission and delivery of the Deliverable

4.1 International IDEA's initial intention is for the Deliverable to be part or all of the New Work (as defined in row 6 of the Special Terms).

4.2 In addition to complying with its obligations under the General Terms, Provider will produce the Deliverable and carry out any additional activities (including providing the Additional Material), in accordance with:

4.2.1 International IDEA's 'Editorial Standards' (to be provided to Provider); and

4.2.2 a good professional standard to meet the quality and standing of International IDEA's publications.

4.3 Provider will keep an additional or backup copy of all material supplied by it to International IDEA under the Contract.

5. Inclusion of a Pre-Existing Material

5.1 If Provider intends to include in the Deliverable a Pre-Existing Material, it must provide details of such Pre-Existing Material to International IDEA and obtain the prior written consent of International IDEA to its use.

5.2 Where International IDEA consents under paragraph 5.1 above and the Provider intends to include in the Deliverable a Pre-Existing Material owned by it, the Provider hereby grants to International IDEA a licence to use the Pre-Existing Material for the purposes and in the manner described in clause 16.4 of the General Terms.

5.3 Where International IDEA consents under paragraph 5.1 above and the Provider intends to include in the Deliverable a Pre-Existing Material owned by a third party, the Provider will procure that the third party author of such Pre-Existing Material will consent to the transfer of the Pre-Existing Material in accordance with clause 16.4.

5.4 If paragraph 5.2 applies, the Provider will itself waive, and where paragraph 5.3 applies, the Provider will procure the waiver by the third party of, its/their (as relevant) moral rights in respect of that Pre-Existing Material. That waiver will include the waiver of any and all present and future claims to rights of integrity, disclosure and withdrawal and any other rights that may be known as 'moral rights'. In addition, that waiver will explicitly entitle International IDEA to change, alter, amend, add to, delete from, adapt and otherwise modify that Pre-Existing Material, including but not limited to making changes to the structure and format of the Pre-Existing Material and any and all other cuts, edits summaries, rearrangements and translations of the Pre-Existing Material.

5.5 If the Provider cannot clear any of the rights or obtain any waiver in accordance with paragraphs 5.2 or 5.3 it must notify International IDEA as soon as possible and in any event prior to the approval of proofs for the New Work. The Parties will use their reasonable endeavours to agree what action to take if full clearance cannot be obtained.

6. Acceptance and Amendment of the Deliverable

6.1 International IDEA will accept the Deliverable provided that it and the Additional Material delivered by Provider are technically competent and comply in nature, scope, length and style to the specifications set out in the Contract or as otherwise agreed in writing by the Parties.

6.2 If the Deliverable fails to meet the requirements of paragraph 6.1, International IDEA will have the right:

6.2.1 to require Provider to make amendments to the Deliverable and Additional Material to ensure that they meet these requirements; or;

6.2.2 to terminate the Contract under paragraph 18.1.1.

6.3 If International IDEA requests amendments in accordance with paragraph 6.2.1:

6.3.1 it will indicate what amendments are needed and will specify a reasonable period of time within which they will need to be made so that it can meet its production schedule; and

6.3.2 Provider will have the opportunity to make the required amendments and submit the revised Deliverable or Additional Material (as relevant) to International IDEA.

6.4 If Provider:

6.4.1 fails to make the requested amendments; or

6.4.2 fails to make the requested amendments to International IDEA's requirements; or

6.4.3 fails to respond to International IDEA's requests, in each case within the timeline specified in the notification, International IDEA, will have the right:

(a) to appoint a competent person(s) to make the amendments and consider the Deliverable accepted only on satisfactory finalisation. International IDEA will have the right to deduct the costs incurred in appointing that person from any sum which may be payable to Provider under the Contract. If the person(s) engaged by International IDEA makes substantial amendments, International IDEA has the right to credit such person(s) as a co-author(s) of the Deliverable; or

(b) to terminate the Contract in accordance with paragraph 18.1.1.

6.5 Whilst International IDEA does not expect this to arise, if Provider fails to deliver the Deliverable by the delivery date specified in the Special Terms or by such other date as International IDEA may agree in writing, then International IDEA reserves the right to terminate the Contract in accordance with paragraph 18.1.1.

7. Proof Reading

7.1 Provider will read, check and correct all proofs of the Deliverable and any final artwork included by Provider in the Deliverable and return them to International IDEA within 14 days of their receipt. If Provider does not return the proofs in time, International IDEA may consider the proofs and artwork passed for press by Provider.

7.2 International IDEA will absorb the cost of Provider's corrections up to an amount equal to 10 per cent of the cost of origination of the Deliverable. Any cost incurred over that amount will be deducted from any payment due to Provider under the Contract. If there is no payment due, Provider will pay any costs incurred within 30 days of receipt of an invoice issued by International IDEA.

8. Editing and editorial control

8.1 International IDEA reserves the right to make editorial amendments to the Deliverable without referring these to Provider for Provider's review and approval. Such amendments include any statistics or facts which are found to be incorrect in the Deliverable and any amendments to conform to International IDEA's house style.

8.2 To avoid doubt, International IDEA will have final editorial control in respect of the Deliverable. In particular, it reserves the right to amend the Deliverable in any way that it thinks fit in order to change or remove any material which it, or its legal advisers, considers to be unacceptable or gives cause for any legal action. Any such amendment will not affect Provider's liability under paragraphs 17.1 and 17.2 below.

9. Additional Responsibilities of the Lead Provider

9.1 If Provider has been appointed as a Lead Provider as specified in the Special Terms, then in addition to the other obligations imposed on it under the Contract the Lead Provider will:

9.1.1 provide editorial assistance and services to International IDEA as those are specified in the Terms of Reference or as International IDEA may reasonably request from time to time in respect of content selection, choice of contributors to the New Work, quality control of contributions and liaison with other contributors;

9.1.2 perform editorial services in a proper, timely and efficient manner with a view to ensuring that the New Work and any contributions to it are produced to a good professional standard which are consistent with the quality and standing of the New Work; and

9.1.3 perform other editorial services in accordance with International IDEA's production schedule as notified in writing to the Lead Provider from time to time.

10. Additional Responsibilities of the Institutional Provider

10.1 If the Provider is an Institutional Provider, as indicated in the Special Terms, Provider will procure that:

10.1.1 the Author complies with those terms of the Contract which need to be performed by the Author to ensure that Provider is in compliance with the Contract. This obligation will only continue for so long as the Author continues to be engaged by Provider; and

10.1.2 an identical waiver of moral rights and the right to otherwise deal with the Deliverable as is specified in clause 16.4.5 of the General Terms is obtained for the benefit of International IDEA from the Author and any other persons that provides service in respect of the Deliverable.

11. Co-Authors

11.1 If the Deliverable is being written by more than one person, identified as Co-Authors in the Special Terms and no Lead Author has been appointed, all of the obligations, agreements and undertakings given or entered into by the Co-Authors in the Contract are given or entered into jointly and severally. That means that each of the Co-Authors are responsible individually for complying with all the obligations (not just the ones that they might have had allocated to them on an individual basis).

11.2 If a Lead Author has been appointed:

11.2.1 then even if the Deliverable has been written by Co-Authors, the Lead Author agrees to take sole responsibility for all of the obligations, agreements and undertakings given or entered into by Provider in the Contract; and

11.2.2 the Lead Author will procure that the Co-Authors comply with those terms of the Contract which need to be performed by the Co-Authors to ensure that Provider is in compliance with the Contract.

12. Publication

12.1 Although International IDEA intends to publish the Deliverable, publication is subject to International IDEA's available resources, established practices and policies and Provider's compliance with all terms of the Contract. To avoid doubt, International IDEA will not be obliged in any way to publish or distribute the Deliverable.

12.2 Publication of the Deliverable will be at International IDEA's own expense and risk.

12.3 Where the Deliverable is published International IDEA will:

12.3.1 produce the Deliverable to a good professional standard appropriate to the medium in which it is published or made available; and

12.3.2 have entire control over all matters relating to the publication, distribution, sale and promotion of the Deliverable.

13. Provider's Re-use Rights

13.1 Provider will have the right to re-use the Deliverable for his/her professional purposes only provided that:

13.1.1 it is not used for commercial purposes;

13.1.2 any use is made after the New Work or Deliverable has been published by International IDEA;

13.1.3 appropriate acknowledgement is made to the New Work and International IDEA; and

13.1.4 Provider notifies International IDEA in writing prior to each such intended use.

14. Credit

14.1 International IDEA will include an appropriate credit in the New Work or the Deliverable.

14.2 International IDEA will request that any other publication of the Deliverable by a sub-licensee publisher will contain a similar credit. However, no failure of any sub-licensee publisher to give this credit will constitute a breach of the Contract by International IDEA.

14.3 If International IDEA translates the Deliverable or adapts it in any other way, International IDEA will attribute Provider as the original author of the Deliverable, but will, in addition, be entitled to credit the person or entity that carried out such translation or adaptation.

15. Provider's Copies

On publication of the Deliverable in print on paper, by International IDEA, Provider will be sent six copies of the first edition of the Deliverable or New Work.

16. New Editions

16.1 The Parties acknowledge that at some point after publication, International IDEA may wish to commission a revision of the Deliverable for a new edition of the Deliverable or the New Work.

16.2 If the Parties agree that Provider will be engaged to revise the Deliverable, any revised Deliverable will be provided on the terms of the Contract except that any payment for any revised or updated Deliverable will be mutually agreed between the Parties.

16.3 To avoid doubt, nothing in this clause will prevent International IDEA from being entitled to revise the Deliverable to produce a new edition.

17. Warranties and Indemnities

17.1 Provider undertakes and warrants to International IDEA that:

17.1.1 the Deliverable will be original to Provider, or in the case of an Institutional Provider or a Lead Author, the Deliverable will be original to the Author or Co-Authors respectively, except for material in the public domain and any Pre-Existing Material that has been cleared for inclusion in accordance with paragraph 5 and included in the Deliverable;

17.1.2 the Deliverable is in no way whatever an infringement of any copyright or licence or duty of confidence or duty to respect privacy or any other right (including any moral right) of any person or a breach of any existing agreement;

17.1.3 all statements contained in the Deliverable purporting to be facts are true, accurate and complete; and

17.1.4 the Deliverable contains no obscene, improper, defamatory or blasphemous material nor is in any other way unlawful.

17.2 Provider acknowledges that it is responsible for any breach of the warranties set out in paragraph 17.1 and it agrees to indemnify and hold International IDEA free from any losses damages, costs and expenses of whatever kind that International IDEA may incur as a result of a breach of the above warranties or arising out of any claim alleging that the Deliverable breaches any of those warranties.

17.3 If either Provider or International IDEA receives any claim alleging breach of any of the warranties given to International IDEA in the Contract, that Party will promptly notify the other Party.

18. Termination

18.1 In addition to the rights of termination under the General Terms, International IDEA may terminate:

18.1.1 the Contract immediately by written notice to Provider if the events in paragraph 6.4 or 6.5 arise;

18.1.2 the Contract in whole or in part at any time by giving Provider fifteen days prior written notice.

Appendix 2 – Additional Terms to Cooperation Contract

1.1 These Additional Terms apply to and form part of the Contract between International IDEA and Provider(s).

2. Definitions

2.1 In addition to the definitions included in the Special Terms and the General Terms, the following terms have the meanings given to them below (unless it is apparent from the context in which they are used, that they should not):

Financial Report	is a financial report describing progress as against the Budget or detailing costs and/or expenses incurred to date to be supplied by Provider(s) to International IDEA in accordance with the Terms of Reference.
Narrative Report	is the report describing progress of the Services to be supplied by Provider(s) to International IDEA in accordance with the Terms of Reference.

4.1 This paragraph 4 only applies where the Parties have agreed to produce and publish a New Work (as defined in the Publishing Annex) to this Contract). In that scenario, the Publishing Annex will apply and will set out each Parties responsibilities in connection with the New Work and any Deliverables produced in connection with it.

Ownership of Copyright in the Deliverable and the New Work

4.2 Unless the Publishing Annex states otherwise, copyright in the Deliverable(s) and the New Work will be held by International IDEA solely. The Providers hereby transfer, with full title guarantee, the entire copyright and all other rights of a similar nature in the Deliverable(s) and the New Work to International IDEA in each and every legal jurisdiction in the world to the fullest extent permitted by law in each such legal jurisdiction.

4.3 If the Publishing Annex states that the copyright in the Deliverable(s) and New Work is to be held by the Parties jointly, each Party hereby transfers, with full title guarantee, the entire copyright and all other rights of a similar nature in the Deliverable(s) and the New Work to International IDEA and the Provider(s) absolutely to hold as joint owners in equal shares in each and every legal jurisdiction in the world to the fullest extent permitted by law in each such legal jurisdiction.

4.4 In each and every legal jurisdiction in the world where an assignment of copyright is effective in law, the transfer of rights referred to in paragraph 4.2 or 4.3, whichever is applicable, will consist of or include an assignment of all present and, to the extent that it is possible, future copyright and all other rights of a similar nature in the Deliverable(s) and the New Work for the full term of copyright and all renewals, revivals and extensions of such term that now exist or are in the future created in that legal jurisdiction.

4.5 In each and every legal jurisdiction where an assignment of copyright is not effective in law, either wholly or partially, the transfer of rights referred to in paragraph 4.2 or 4.3, whichever is applicable, will consist of or include the grant of the most extensive and long lasting licence to exploit the Deliverable(s) and the New Work it is possible to grant under the law of the legal jurisdiction in question. In particular, to the extent that it is possible under the law of the legal jurisdiction in question, such licence will be an exclusive, irrevocable and perpetual licence to exploit the Deliverable(s) and the New Work in any way, including without limitation the right to digitise, publish, display, store, reproduce, redistribute (whether by sale, or otherwise (including by making available via a creative commons licence), syndicate, broadcast and make the Deliverable(s) and the New Work available on-line in any form either on its own or in combination with any other New Work(s) in any form or by any media anywhere in the world and to license third parties to exploit in any such manner all or part of the Deliverable(s) and the New Work. Any such licence will include the right to exploit, administer and sub-licence all subsidiary rights, including without limit, the right to: (i) adapt, abridge, condense and translate all or part of the Deliverable(s) and/or the New Work; (ii) to publish them as a co-edition; (iii) to publish quotations and extracts from them; (iv) to publish them as an educational edition with notes, other support material or in simplified form; and (v) to convert and publish them in such a way as to allow their use by the visually handicapped.

Clearance of Rights in the Pre-Existing Material

4.6 If a Party intends to include in the New Work a Pre-Existing Material that is owned by a third party, that Party must clear the rights to use the Pre-Existing Material for the purposes and in the manner described in paragraph 4.4, or if not possible, paragraph 4.5.

4.7 If a Party intends to include in the New Work a Pre-Existing Material owned by it, that Party hereby grants the Party(ies) with rights of ownership pursuant to paragraph 4.2 or 4.3, a licence to use the Pre-Existing Material for the purposes and in the manner described in paragraph 4.5. If paragraph 4.2 applies, International IDEA will not grant the Provider(s) such a licence.

4.8 Whichever of paragraph 4.2 or 4.3 applies, the Party which intends to include a Pre-Existing Material in the New Work will procure that the author of such Pre-Existing Material and any other persons that provided services in relation to such Pre-Existing Material will waive their moral rights in respect of that material. That waiver will include the waiver of any and all present and future claims to rights of integrity, disclosure and withdrawal and any other rights that may be known as 'moral rights'. In addition, that waiver will explicitly entitle International IDEA and/or the Provider(s) (if any) as appropriate to change, alter, amend, add to, delete from, adapt and otherwise modify that Pre-Existing Material, including but not limited to making changes to the structure and format of the Pre-Existing Material and any and all other cuts, edits summaries, rearrangements and translations of the Pre-Existing Material.

4.9 If the Party which proposes to include a Pre-Existing Material in the New Work cannot clear any of the rights or obtain any waiver in accordance with paragraphs 4.6, 4.7 or 4.8, it must notify the other Party(ies) as soon as possible and in any event prior to the approval of proofs for the New Work. The Parties will use their reasonable endeavours to agree what action to take if full clearance cannot be obtained.

4.10 Each Party acknowledges that ownership of the copyright in the New Work is subject to any underlying rights owned by third parties or by the other Party in the Pre-Existing Material and that any use of the New Work will have to be consistent with such rights.

Clearance of Rights in the Deliverable and the New Work

4.11 The Party responsible for producing or commissioning the New Work and/or the Deliverable(s) will ensure that:

4.11.1 it acquires rights from the contributors to the New Work and/or the Deliverable(s) to use the New Work and/or the Deliverable for the purpose of and in the manner described in paragraph 4.4 or 4.5, whichever is applicable;

4.11.2 a waiver of moral rights and the right to otherwise deal with the Deliverable and the New Work is secured from the author and any other persons that render services in respect of the Deliverable and the New Work in the same terms as is specified in paragraph 4.9, except that reference to 'Pre-Existing Material' will be read as reference to 'Deliverable and the New Work' where the context so requires; and

4.11.3 it acquires warranties from the contributors to the New Work and/or the Deliverable that their work is original, is in no way whatever an infringement of copyright or any other rights of a third party, and they have the power to transfer the rights as per paragraph 4.11.1.

Delivery of the Deliverable(s) and the New Work

4.12 Each Party will sort and index that part of the Deliverable(s), the New Work and the Pre-Existing Material it is responsible for producing/ contributing prior to its delivery and according to the instructions of International IDEA. The delivery of such work will include: (i) electronic copies of the documents as specified in the Terms of Reference; and (ii) written evidence of the acquisition of the rights acquired under paragraph 4.11 above.

4.13 If International IDEA identifies any gaps in the rights that should have been acquired by the Provider(s) in the Deliverable(s) or the New Work, the Party that failed to acquire the relevant rights, will be responsible for promptly rectifying the position and bearing the costs in doing so.

In addition, International IDEA will endeavour to require that a similar undertaking is given in respect of any editions of the New Work and/or Deliverable(s) licensed by International IDEA for publication to third parties. However, no failure by such third parties to acknowledge the other Party's(ies') contribution will constitute a breach of this Contract by International IDEA; and
